Work-Study, Pell Grant, Institutional Aid, ICW Scholarship, Loans

Financial aid is really the only thing that is making it possible for me to attend WWU. I was really excited when I received the ICW award last year; it's really the only thing that's able to keep me here. Without it, I'm not sure if my family would be able to afford WWU. I now work in the Marketing & Enrollment Services Office on campus, and it's really fun to tell people who are worried about finances how I randomly received this scholarship after I began attending WWU which made it possible for me to financially make it.

Without financial aid I would not be able to afford my schooling. My parents are both teachers and work very hard, but they don't make enough money to put three children through college. Walla Walla University has worked very hard to make it possible for my siblings and me to pay for our college education. Thank you for keeping the education of my generation and future generations in mind as you work on this subject. Without outside support many of us would not be able to get as good of an education.

If I did not have financial aid I would not be able to attend college at all. I come from a family where my mom is disabled with secondary progressive M.S and my dad makes less than 10 dollars an hour. Financial aid is my only hope of creating a better life .

I love programming and reading. I spend a lot of my time making short programs to help myself be more effective during the day. In the time I am not programming I am either reading books or writing poetry.

Financial aid has allowed me to go to Walla Walla University. Without state and federal financial aid programs to help me it would be very difficult to come up with the money to attend.

My goal is to help young women and infants get the proper care they need and help them get a chance at a better life.

As a single parent and someone who comes from a family with very little money, financial assistance has given me the opportunity to further my education.

Giving thanks does not begin to describe what I would like to say to those who have donated or fought for financial aid. I am truly blessed to have been given this gift and I am thankful each and every day and strive to do excellent work every day to show my gratitude for this gift.

Walla Walla University is a great school to be at and it would not be possible if I were not for the financial aid I get through the school and government. Thank you so much for what you do for me and making my dreams come true to get a college education.

I want to be an elementary teacher who seeks put all of my students first and help them to realize that learning is fun and that you can succeed in anything you put your mind to.

Financial aid has allowed me to continue attending my university. With this aid, I anticipate graduating in two years with a Bachelor of Science degree in Health Science. Without this aid, the expenses would merely be too great for me to attend (also too great for me to complete a degree in four years). It is my hope to graduate and then go on to medical school and become a geriatrician and give back to the elderly who have given our society so much already.

I wanted a college education so that I can stretch my knowledge to its full potential. I could have gone to a community college...or a state university. The FASFA tells me that my family can contribute to my schooling. In reality, they cannot. Without financial aid I would never be able to fill the void that my family cannot fill.

Thank you for believing in me enough to help me pay for college! It does not go unnoticed. Without the investment for our present students the future would look grim.

Jed

Work-Study, Pell Grant, Institutional Aid, Loans

Financial aid has allowed me to attain my goal of being the first in my family to attend college.

I can't wait to be in a situation to give back to those who need it. And with the help of my financial aid I will someday be able to do just that.

I would like to extend my thanks to all those who take the time to care about and take care of the future of this state and country.
